A MURDERER HANGED.

Salvador, the Indian who murdered Paul Rieger in Maria county last April, was executed Thursday at San Rafael. Rieger was murdered in cold blood for his watch and money. Salvador had murdered six men in his time.

In his confession he gives a list of his victims as follows: 1. In 1860 stabbed his brother Cruz to death at Nicasio. 2. Stabbed an Indian named Jose Viego to death. 3. In 1866 killed an Indian named Whisky Bill, for which he was arrested and acquitted. 4. Killed an Indian, name unknown, in Mendocino county. 5. Last year he and another Indian killed a Chinaman to death near Sebastopol. 6. April 19, 1879, killed Paul Rieger.

Father Lerda, the priest, who was with Salvador in his last hours, says that the murderer had fully repented and the priest thought Salvador prepared "to meet the Savior in the next world."

From Father Lerda's point of view, Salvador, in taking leave of the world, had a decided advantage over his last victim. Rieger could have had no special preparation for death as he was shot without a moment's warning.

ENTIRELY UNFOUNDED.

Our morning contemporary says: "A peculiar disease is reported in Reno. The patient gradually sinks into a death-like stupor, the extremities begin to mortify, but it still breathes." A little girl died of it yesterday.

This is thrown out as an inducement for people from the outside to bring their children and come to the State Fair next week. We took an hour this morning and tried to find out something about this dreadful disease, but without any discoveries. The doctors assured us that in the case of the little girl who died yesterday, there was nothing unusual or peculiar at all. She died from general debility owing to the digestive organs failing to perform their functions and assimilate food. There was nothing in the shape of mortification of the extremities. The whole story is either a stupid mistake or a miserable attempt at wit.

SUICIDE OF DETECTIVE GAY.

The suicide of Detective D. C. Gay in San Francisco on Thursday was a singular case. About a year ago he had promised his wife to quit drinking. This pledge he broke last Sunday night, at which time he got drunk. For this he killed himself.

The suicide of Detective Gay was a childish act. No man can always live up to his good resolutions. If he falls, he should try again, and keep on trying. Nothing great can be accomplished in this world without previous failures.

Detective Gay leaves a wife to whom he wrote a loving letter before his death. It was not a manly or a loving act in him to shuffle out of the world and leave her to bear its hard knocks alone.

There are some cases of suicide which awaken compassion, but this does not.

There is often great significance in names. The name of Grant is now in everybody's mouth and in the columns of every newspaper. The man who owns that name is now welcomed home to his country by many thousands. Always, everywhere and by everybody he is spoke of as General Grant. No one refers to him as ex-President Grant. It is the General, not the ex-President, whom they greet.

A COMSTOCK CASE.

Henry Watt was prowling about the works of the Hale & Norcross Friday morning at a very early hour. He would not stop when called, and the night-watchman shot him. Watt's wounds are mortal. The watchman, Henry Hathrell, shot him, believing him a thief. Hathrell has been arrested on a charge of assault with intent to kill.

Last winter in Oakland a watchman saw a man looking into a window of a bank about midnight. The watchman tried to arrest him but the man took the watchman for a robber and ran away. The watchman fired, wounding the fugitive in the heel. He proved to be a respectable citizen who was merely looking into the bank to ascertain the time by the large clock which hung there in the light.

Policemen are not justified in firing at a man upon mere suspicion. A court not long since gave a decision to that effect. There is too much clubbing and pistoling done by policemen. The abuse of power by the police of New York is notorious. It is there a common thing for a ruffian in uniform to club a good citizen who may offend him.

The practice of firing at a supposed criminal is an abuse, and should be stopped. Very likely the man that Hathrell shot was a thief. But had Mackay or Fair been prowling about and got shot, what a fuss would be made about it!

EDITORIAL NOTES.

It is not often that ministers are shot. Still more exceptional is it for a minister to be shot by his wife. Yet the Rev. Dexter L. Lounsbury, an Episcopal clergyman of Stratford, Conn., died by his wife's hand last week. She shot him through the head as he lay in bed asleep. She says she does not know why she killed him. They had been married over twelve years and had a daughter eleven years old. Mrs. Lounsbury was a confirmed invalid, but had never shown any signs of mental weakness. The coroner's jury gave a verdict that the act was "committed during a temporary derangement of the mind, occasioned by disease."

What a very dangerous form of insanity this "temporary derangement" is!

One of the strangest cases of hardihood ever recorded is that related by Mrs. Chisolm, and published in the New York Tribune. Mrs. Chisolm recently said in Washington that when attending communion service at her church, one day shortly after the murder of her husband and son, she approached the communion table, and was about to drink the wine, she noticed that H. G. Gully, the murderer of her daughter, had followed her to the table, apparently to drink the communion wine with her. Mrs. Chisolm was so astonished that she hardly knew what action to take, but drank the wine without resenting the insult.

In San Jose on Sunday Sep. 29d Justice Barrett was about to unite two young persons in marriage. The friends of both were present. When the Justice asked the young lady's consent to the ceremony she answered "No," and withdrew to an adjoining room. Her friends expostulated with her, and she at length consented to carry out her original intention. The young man had been silently waiting the result of the intervention of her friends. The girl again came forward, and declared her readiness to marry. But the young man had changed his mind, also, and remarked: "Guess I'll go home and go to bed." And he went.

W. R. Mateer, an Indian Agent in Arizona, writes that the Moquis Indians have an infallible antidote for the bite of the rattlesnake. This antidote they keep secret with religious care. During their festival called "the snake dance," which occurs every two years, the Indians allow themselves to be repeatedly bitten by rattlesnakes. "An Indian of this tribe, when bitten by a snake, swallows the antidote at once, and after being stupefied for a moment becomes immediately restored, and never feels any pain or inconvenience afterward."

The spontaneous combustion of a human being is reported by the San Jose Herald. The consumed was Miss Carrie C. Hoyle, aged 19, who lived near San Lorenzo, in Santa Cruz county. She had for years been a hard drinker of whisky. On September 10th she left her home with a jug of whisky in her hand. Some hours afterward her ashes and some charred remains of her clothing were found on a rock by the side of the empty jug. The remains were interred, and the cause of death kept secret for several weeks, but the girl's father one day, when in his cups, revealed the truth.

The following from the Carson Appeal indicates that Bodie has not the finest climate in the world:

A gentleman from Bodie yesterday says that John T. Pantlind is sick, and that he will very likely have to leave the camp. Another young gentleman came in from Bodie on Wednesday who had a lucrative position out there, and was compelled to throw it up because he could not stand the climate. Every day or two people are compelled to leave the camp for the same reason. It requires a constitution of iron to stand the light air which is encountered out there.

The way the trains run now between Reno and Virginia, would give an excellent opportunity for two or three miles each way between those points, Gold Hill, Carson, etc. A sack could be put on the train leaving here at 1:35; and one on the train leaving Virginia at the same time, in the care of the conductor, which would be very convenient and useful to business men. The arrangement works very well in other places and would here.

The examination of the Roddams ended at Wheatland Friday. The innocence of the Roddams was established and they were discharged from custody. And so the Wheatland outrage remains a mystery.

Chang, the noted colored horse trainer, says: "They are hippodroming Grant around the country the same as they did Rarus."

A Bodie paper remarks, in a casual way, that the reporter had not heard where the five shots came from that were "fired in the central part of town last evening."

FEARFUL ACCIDENT AT BODIE.

Nine Men Dropped 500 Feet in the Tioga Shaft.

BODIE, October 2.—As the 6 o'clock shift was being lowered in the Tioga mine, with nine men on board, the engine escaped from the control of the engineer and the cage dropped to the 500 level. One man is now dead and all are injured in such a manner as to warrant the belief that they will not recover. The names of the men injured in the Tioga mine are: Thomas Moran, slightly; John Cassidy, both legs broken; Pat Brannan, dying, smashed to pieces; Sam Marston, both legs broken, dying; — French, both legs broken; Manuel Alvarez, injured internally; Harry Richards, killed; Joe Roderick, injured seriously; Pete Pluff, one leg broken. It is the opinion of the physicians in charge that all the injured will die. The Miners' Union Hall is a place of mourning again, and bears a resemblance to the time of the Standard explosion.

The Virginia Gas Companies Glad.

The canal between the Caspian and the Sea of Azoff, a survey of which is being made for Russia, is estimated to cost $20,000,000. Two rivers and a chain of lakes would facilitate the work.

Pedestrianism in Berlin took this form. A young man made a bet that he would run on all fours from Konigsther to Weissensee, a distance of two or three miles, and won, in a heavy rain, in two hours.

France, Germany, Italy, Austria, and Switzerland have agreed that their embassies and consulates shall send home indigent persons to their respective nationalities at half the ordinary railway fares.

When Emperor William of Germany was a young man he indulged in a habit of sleeping, all booted and spurred, on a cannon to exhibit his fondness for military life; in his whole career he has always worn uniform and sword.

A Camp Meeting Broken Up.

From the Cincinnati Enquirer.

The Sanatificationists' camp meeting, that has been in session here for the past ten days, broke up to-night in a disgraceful row. The whole trouble arose from the action of one of the preachers named Ellis on the last Sabbath. He walked up to a number of persons on the grounds that were smoking, deliberately jerked the cigars from their mouths, trampled the tobacco beneath his feet, and abused the smokers for using the weed. Numerous threats have been made by the infuriated parties that the offender would be treated to a coat of tar and feathers. To-night, about 9 o'clock, 100 men marched to the Fair grounds, broke up the meeting by their yells, and demanded Ellis. Numerous unsuccessful attempts were made by the police to quell the riot, and finally a call was made upon some of the more peaceable citizens present to take charge of Ellis and see that he be escorted to his sleeping apartments unmolested. Ellis was saved, but the camp meeting was broken up.

A Plot to Burn Elko.

From the Independent, Oct. 2.

Through a secret channel, it reached the ears of the officers yesterday, that a plot was hatching to fire the town. A close watch was kept of the suspected party, and some suspicious maneuvering was discovered, but the matter of the suspicion having leaked out, arrests were made before the project had come to a head and the sworn statement of a party who claims to have been offered a reward for the commission of the crime, is about all that can be relied on for the conviction; at least, if further evidence has been secured, it has not been developed.

Fast Pacing at St. Louis.

In a pacing race at St. Louis on the 2d, between Rowdy Boy, Mattie Hunter and Sleepy Tom, Mattie Hunter made the first half mile in 1:04, and won the heat in a jog in 2:14. Rowdy Boy won the three next heats in 2:17—1:19—2:14.

TUNNELING FOR WATER.

An Inexhaustible Supply in the Hills.—The Philosophy of the Matter.

"Scientia" writes to the S. F. Bulletin, as follows:

The great want of California, at certain seasons, is water. At times it is indispensable. If it comes not, vegetation withers, stock dies and the farmer is ruined. Water is life, wealth, prosperity, everything. And yet the crust of the earth is a great reservoir of the precious fluid. However parched the surface, dig a little, it is cool, damp, moist, wet, and finally the water is there in abundance. Capillary attraction draws it up from below, from lakes, rivers, seas, until the whole surface of the earth is full of it. It climbs the mountains, or, perhaps, rather, they retain what falls upon them by the same capillary attraction. And thereby hangs a tale; a useful tale; a tale with millions in it; a tale that will eventually add immensely to the wealth and greatness of California. It is not known to all, but it should be, that wherever there is a mountain of any considerable height and extent, it is full of water. If you have a farm near it, or land that will make a farm; if you want water for house, stock, garden, orchard, or any other purpose, and you will generally get an abundant supply. Begin a tunnel high enough in the mountain side to run over the top of your house. Go in nearly on a level, and in a little while the water will be dripping all round you, and will run to your home, sweet, pure and cool as mountain dew. You bleed the hill as it were. You cut the veins and capillary vessels, and they drop the nectar you desire. Of course it will cost money. But not much. In soft ground half a dollar a foot, and if there is no hard rock, a dollar at most. Two or three hundred feet will indicate the result, and having once found the water, the more you dig, the more you have. A thousand feet would rarely fail of a good supply. Then it is unlike a well. It needs no drawing. It runs to you all the time. And whenever you want pure water, do a little more digging. There are ten thousand places in California that such a tunnel would make desirable that must else remain waste and barren for centuries to come. Don't forget! However dry the mountain, if it be only large enough, the water is there—a perpetual spring, a fortune worth more than gold.

TAP THE HILL.

AN INDIAN FAIR.

The Chippewa Indians Make a Very Creditable Exhibit.

From the New York Sun.

Of the numerous agricultural and industrial fairs held during the present month, none has been more significant or typical of progress than that of the Chippewa Indians, which took place on Thursday last at White Earth reservation. There were shows of horses and cattle; of grain and vegetables; of butter, cheese, maple sugar and syrup, bread and cake, preserves and pickles; of rag carpets, reed mats, moccasins, quilts, bark work and mittens. The majority of the judges were Indians. Thus, among the judges of stallions and brood mares figured Waw-Waw, Meke-Sence, and May-shaw-ke-ge-shick; among the experts in hogs, sheep and poultry, were Bay-cah-se-gay and Wab-ge-shuh; the decision on bulls, cows and oxen, was largely intrusted to May-taw-nough, Moh-kah-ge-wenk, and Wen-ge-mah-dub; while Mrs. Bay-ke-wah-noneh was one of those who pronounced on the merits of dairy and kitchen products. There were premiums in all these classes, ranging from $5 to fifty cents. There was a prize for "the breaking plough in best condition after two or more years' use;" prizes for the farmers who did the greatest amount of breaking this year; a prize for the one cultivating the most acres with least expense to the Government; and a prize to the one owning the most farm tools in the best condition. The judges in the farming class were Tay-cum-e-ge-shick, Bay-bom, Me-no-ge-shick, Jos. Broad, Zane H. Beaulieu, and J. A. Warren. Before many years we are likely to see an inter-reservation fair, maintained wholly by Indians from the agencies.

Feeling His Way Through Grant's Mind.

Extract from a San Jose Herald reporter's interview with General Grant:
Rep.—I suppose it would be considered both impolite and inappropriate to make any remarks about politics?
Gen.—It would, sir.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The recent publication in the San Jose Herald of the case of spontaneous combustion of a young woman's body, having caused much incredulity, Prof. Guntensher writes to that paper, declaring as a scientific man that the story is true. He says:

"I have no doubt that spontaneous combustion, so called, was the cause of the woman's death. Of course literal spontaneous combustion of the human body is impossible, but the system may become so thoroughly impregnated with alcohol that the application of a spark of fire may ignite the fumes and result in the reduction of the entire frame to charcoal. There are numbers of well authenticated cases on record, the most remarkable of which is that of the Countess Cornelia de Bardi Cosenati, of Verona, in 1831. This case furnished Dickens with a precedent for the death of Krook in 'Bleak House.' I was personally acquainted with the party consumed at Lorenz, and judging from what I know of the habits and peculiarities of Carrie C. Noyle, I do not hesitate to say that combustion ensued through contact with the flame of a match."

A subscriber writes that the Crystal Peak Lumber Company run the sawdust down the flume from Dog Valley mill and dump it into the river. The presence of saw dust has often destroyed the fish in streams and is at all times dangerous. The principal reason is that it covers up the spawning beds, which, on the Truckee river, were never any too plentiful. A very few dollars of expense would run the sawdust from the mill into dumps near at hand instead of allowing it to go into the main flume. The trouble with the Crystal Peak Company is that they are very short of water, and find it hard enough to get their material out without any going to waste, as it would if the sawdust was carried off by itself.

P. R. Halpin was walking along the road near the court house one day last week when a savage dog which was following a hay wagon into town seized his leg and inflicted a severe wound. The tooth of the beast penetrated the flesh an inch, and the bite is now very much inflamed and swollen. A man who keeps a dog like that ought to leave him chained up at home, or else chain him to his wagon. Life is not safe with them at large. The streets are full of little boys and girls, and to have one of them bitten by a dog is to cast a dreadful fear over its whole life.

The Bodie News has revived the discussion as to the expediency of removing the State University from Elko to Reno. There can be no doubt that Reno is the best place in the State for such an institution. It lies close to the centres of population in Nevada and at the junction of main lines of travel. The State University at this point would draw many students from the neighboring counties of California. The only man that could ever give a reason for locating the institution at Elko was Gov. Bradley, and he is dead.

The late headman of Berlin, who was also the dog poundmaster of that city, had a curious theory about dogs. He divided them into two classes, those that fear the water and those that like the water. He held that the bite of every dog that fears the water is poisonous at all times, and that the members of the other class are entirely harmless. The Spitz, which is of all dogs the most subject to hydrophobia, is almost helpless in the water, and dreads that element.

We acknowledge with thanks the receipt of a complimentary ticket to the Plumas, Lassen and Modoc District Fair, which will commence at Susanville, Oct. 27. Their exhibit promises to be unusually good, and the races will be interesting.

Work on the Nevada Central Railway is going rapidly forward. Last Saturday an engine and twenty cars arrived at Battle Mountain. Ties and bridge timbers are daily passing through Reno over the Central Pacific for the scene of operations.

An exchange says that a farmer attempted to cut into a premium pumpkin at a fair at Council Grove, Kansas, to get a few of the seeds, but found it made of wood. It had taken many prizes at fairs for its weight, 230 pounds, and its circumference, 7 feet.

The little son of F. M. Dickey of Norwalk, Los Angeles county, was kicked in the abdomen, September 30th, by a young colt. After suffering for some sixteen hours he died.

LONDON, Oct. 6.—Parole has been supported for more than any horse in the contest for the Czarowelch stakes. Jockeys who have ridden him think he cannot stay. The course is over two miles and a quarter. His trainer and his owner are confident of winning.

Duke of Beaufort, proprietor of large estates in England and Ireland, says it is impossible to compete with American production. He advises British farmers to devote their attention to raising cattle.

Walking for the O'Leary Belt.

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—Of the thirty-five pedestrians who started Sunday night in the contest for the O'Leary belt, ten have dropped out of roll.

Blower Brown rested through the night. He made his appearance on the track towards nine o'clock, at which hour the score stood: Allen 127, Behrmann 126, Boyd 86, Bram 72, Brody 113, Brendgeest 115, Brown 39, Castello 89, Crossland 101, Curran 135, Dickinson 89, Dillon 79, Dugan 59, Elson 115, Faber 136, Fitzgerald 88, Fox 121, Kellmerer 106, McKee 95, McLean 108, McLeary 97, Mahoney 113, Murphy 141, Perkins 64, Pierce 121, Russell 126, Speller 127, Tait 68, Walker 129.

Blower Brown abandoned the race at half-past one o'clock.

At 3 o'clock the score stood: Allen 149, Behrmann 77, Boyle 93, Bram 86, Brody 137, Brendgeest 140, Castello 100, Curran 152, Dickinson 112, Elson 134, Faber 160, Fox 140, Howard 139, Kemmerer 131, McKee 115, McLean 108, McLeary 116, Mahoney 135, Murphy 168, Pierce 141, Russell 149, Speller 150, Walker 149.

Talk About Grant.

A Washington special to the World says Senator Morgan of Alabama returned to-day from California. He thinks Grant's ovation there a spontaneous uprising of the people to welcome a brave and successful man. That, he thinks, is the extent of its significance, and whatever political aspirations Grant may have, they will not be furthered by anything that has happened in the west. Nevertheless, the World again declares Grant the inevitable candidate of the Republican party in 1880.

The Ohio Election.

The Times says the Republican leaders of Ohio find they have been exaggerating their own chances of success as grossly as they have been underestimating the strength of their adversaries. Republican estimates of majority on State ticket have suddenly shrunk to one-third of the figures lately claimed, and the legislature is regarded as rather worse than doubtful.

New Mines of Marvelous Richness.

Texas advices report that the new silver mines which the Mexicans are so anxious to guard from the Yankees are situated near the Dewey mountains, about 200 miles beyond the Rio Grande. The average yield of bullion is 20 ounces per 300 pounds of ore. A Mexican paper of Sept. 16th says the immense riches discovered in Mojada mountains, open up a magnificent field for remunerative enterprise. Already we hear of large numbers of people flocking from adjoining states and from the north side of the Rio Grande.

The Texas Express says: Klarenzo Castro has received a letter from a friend in Mexico describing the Sierra Mojada mines. So far as discovered the yield is from 80 to 800 ounces of silver per ton. Leadville and the Comstock are nowhere in comparison.

Payne's Command Heard From.

RAWLINS, Oct. 7.—A letter from Lieut. Price at Fortification Creek, bearing date of 30th says: "Have seen no Indians in this vicinity. With my 29 men I can stand off 300 Indians. A Company of the ninth cavalry 50 strong, reached Payne on the 2nd inst." From the above there is probably no doubt but what Payne's command still exists. The news creates a great deal of rejoicing. The letter was written by Lieut. Price to his wife.

Daring Robbery in Emeralds.

CANDELARIA, Oct. 3.—Wells, Fargo & Co.'s stage was robbed about a quarter of a mile from the town of Candelaria, of gold bullion to the amount of several thousand dollars. The stage left Candelaria at 3:30 A. M. and on the outskirts of town two men stepped out of the sagebrush and told the driver to throw out Wells, Fargo & Co.'s box. He did so and they ordered him to drive on. The bullion came from the Silver Peak Co. of Emeralds county. The Sheriff and posse are scouting the country for the robbers and they will probably be caught.

The Indian War.

Full Report of the Battle at Milk River.

The Walking Match—Massachusetts Politics—An Indian Runner's News—Massacre of an Indian Agent—The Killed and Wounded at Milk River.

CHEYENNE, Wyoming, Oct. 8.—A courier from the front brings the following from an officer with Payne's command: Battlefield, Milk river, Col., Oct. 3, 6 P. M. Courier will leave some time to-night with dispatch if possible. Indians still surrounded us and pour in an effective fire from commanding cliffs at a distance of five or six hundred yards, having a cross fire upon our position, which position was chosen hastily on first day of fight. All our horses and all but 12 mules have been killed. We sheltered them as best we could with wagons, but to no purpose. Captain Dodge and Dr. Hughes, with Co. D, 9th cavalry, came to our rescue yesterday morning at daybreak, after a forced night's march of 35 miles from Bear river. Cheer upon cheer rent the air from our trenches when it was seen who was coming. A lull in the firing enabled them to come and shelter their horses as well as possible, taking to the fortifications quickly, when attack redoubled its fury. Had the heights been accessible, Captain Dodge would have charged them with his company, while we covered him from our rifle pits, but this being utterly impossible, the ascent being nearly perpendicular, all we could do during the day was to keep a good lookout from the loop holes and return the fire when any Indian showed his head. This, however, was a very rare occurrence, as the Indians have rifle pits and loop holes.

EVERY HORSE SHOT DOWN.

Before dark every horse but three of Captain Dodge's command had been shot down. A very fortunate thing for us has been that the Indians have left us unmolested at night, with the exception of an occasional shot to make us scatter to our pits. We have been able at great risk to haul off our dead animals every night, otherwise the stench would be intolerable. A sally is made every night for water, a distance of two hundred yards from our entrenchments. Night before last private Erzer, of Co. F was shot in the face while out with a party after water. The Indians were only a few yards away and were driven off by a volley from the guard and trenches. Captain Dodge brought us cheering news that our dispatches sent a few days ago reached Bear river and would undoubtedly reach Rawlins. We have been counting the hours which it will probably take for relief to reach us. We all agree that Gen Merrill from Fort Russell, with the companies from the 5th cavalry there and all other available troops will be ordered to our rescue, as they will all be needed to finish the campaign. The field of battle was admirably chosen for defense by the Indians, and had it not been for Major Thorburgh's advance guard, commanded by Lieutenant Cheney, discovering the ambushade the entire command would have been annihilated.

THE OPENING OF THE FIGHT.

The Indians were dismounted and lying down along the crest of a high steep ridge. The two companies were withdrawn a short distance, dismounted, and deployed in line of battle, with orders to await the attack of the Indians. Lieut. Cheney was here ordered by Thorburgh to make a reconnaissance. Cheney moved out at a gallop with his men. He approached to within a few hundred yards of the Indians. A shot was fired at him, wounding a man of his party and killing his horse. This was the first shot, and was instantly followed by a volley from the Indians. Work had now begun in real earnest, and seeing the advantage of the position he then held, Cheney dismounted his men and deployed along the crest of the hill. The two companies in advance were Capt. Payne's Fifth Cavalry and Capt. Lawson's Company of Third Cavalry, which were dismounted and deployed as skirmishers. Seeing that the Indians were concentrating to cut off his retreat, Capt. Payne was ordered to charge the hill, which he did in gallant style, his horse being shot under him, and several of his men wounded. Major Thorburgh then gave orders to Cheney to hold his position and cover Captain Lawson's retreat. Cheney called for volunteers of 20 men who respond promptly and fought with desperation. Their names will be given in a later dispatch, as NEARLY EVERY MAN WAS WOUNDED before he reached camp, and two were killed. Cheney brought every wounded man with him. Captain Lawson displayed the greatest coolness and courage during the retreat. Thorburgh started back to the wagon train and must have been shot dead when barely half way there, as his body was afterwards seen with life extinct, and lying on his face. Captain Lawson, then in command, at once set about having wounded horses shot for breast-wounds, dismantling wagons of boxes, bundles of bedding, corn, and flour-sacks. Meantime a galling fire was concentrated upon the command from all the surrounding bluffs and dealt fearful destruction among horses and men. The groans of the dying and the agonizing cries of the wounded told what fearful havoc was being made among the determined and desperate command. The red devils at the beginning of the fight had set fire to the dry grass and sagebrush to the windward of our position and it now came sweeping down towards us, the flames leaping high into the air. It was a sight to make the stoutest heart quail, and the floods were waiting to give us a volley as soon as we were driven from shelter. The flames were fought with blankets, etc., and at last passed our position, which we still hold, while a constant fire pours upon us. Our greatest danger is now past. Men now have mostly covered themselves, but the poor horses and mules are constantly falling about us. Just about sundown a charge was attempted but repulsed, the Indians trying to drive off our horses which had broken loose. The attack ceased at dark. At daylight it was resumed and has been kept up every day since, and occasionally at night, sending us to our pits in a scramble. This is the fifth day of our siege, but we are determined to hold out, if it takes a month for succor to reach us. Total killed, 13; total wounded, 43.

The Latest From White River.

LOS PINOS AGENCY, COL., Oct. 18.—An Indian runner came through in eighteen hours from White river last night. He reports that the troops are still fighting, strongly entrenched, and able to hold their position till reinforcements arrive. During the fighting two Indians entered the office and shot the agent through the head. The agency was attacked and the employees took refuge in the building, which was fired. The men were shot in attempting to escape.

How Mark Twain Began His Literary Career.

Mark Twain began life in Nevada as a miner. While working in the Aurora district he composed and sent to the Virginia Enterprise what purported to be a report of the Fourth of July oration of an Aurora orator. It began as follows: "I am the son of a revolutionary sire and was born by a revolutionary dam." Goodman, at that time editor of the Enterprise, was struck with the humor of the production, and wrote to Twain, offering him a place as reporter on the paper and better wages than the $4 a day that Twain was earning as a miner. Mark walked all the way from Aurora, and on his arrival in Virginia went straight to the office of the Enterprise. He was a very dirty looking tramp when he entered the editorial room with his blankets strapped on his back and the dust of travel coating him from head to foot. It was always one of Twain's peculiarities never to change his manner, or his shirt for that matter, to suit occasions. His first words to the astonished staff were: "Damn my hide—if I ain't lousy then shoot me." No one present was prepared to dispute the assertion, and Twain's lousiness at that period may be accepted as a historical fact.

Twain soon got well acquainted on the Comstock, and in the columns of the Enterprise frequently perpetrated jokes on some of the well known characters of Virginia. Shortly after his arrival the following advertisement appeared one morning, and is one of Twain's first newspaper jokes:

FOUND.

There was picked up in front of the Enterprise office this morning a large horse or mule shoe. It was of such great size and weight that a reporter was detailed to find out the owner of an animal of such remarkable proportions as to be able to wear it. The shoe was taken to all the blacksmiths in town, but none of them had ever made one so big, and they didn't believe there was any mule or horse in the country that the shoe would fit. As it would cost about $8 to replace, the shoe is advertised, so that the owner can get it at this office and save expense.

P. S. The owner of the shoe has been found. It came off the heel of Jack Berry's boot.

Four Trotters Attached in Transit.

Four fast trotters, worth about $8,000, were attached in Winnemucca last Saturday evening upon a writ issued by Sheriff Walker of Reno. The writ contained 236 words and was telegraphed to Sheriff Miller of Humboldt county. The horses belonged to a man named Dubois who was indebted to Mathew Allen of Reno, in the sum of $825. Allen learned that Dubois had passed through Reno with the horses on the way to Denver, Colorado, and clapped on the attachment as fast as possible. The matter had not been settled up to last accounts, and the horses may be brought here for sale.

The Winnemucca Races.

From the Silver State.

There are some fourteen or fifteen horses at the race track exercising for the races next week. Among the animals are several runners and trotters from Paradise, whose owners are determined to get away with the purses.

My blood and kidneys are all right, and I am as active as a man of 30, although I am 72, and I have no doubt it will do as well for others of my age. It is worth a trial. BEWARE OF YOUR GREATEST ENEMY!!

An Enemy that has Ruined and made mere Slaves of thousands of farmers and others who toil for their daily bread.

You, who are Careworn and Bowed Down with Toil and Trouble! You, who Work Constantly and Faithfully and Deny Yourself and Family all Luxuries, and, at times, many Real Necessities. You, who, even then, cannot make Both Ends Meet,

STOP AND ASK YOURSELF THE CAUSE OF ALL YOUR TROUBLES!

No doubt you have Studied and Pondered over this question many times. You have laid awake night after night and tried to discover the cause of your adversity, and have ascribed it, sometimes to the High Rates of Taxes, sometimes to the Smallness of Your Income, and sometimes to your Bad Luck. But the real cause of all your troubles, cares and anxiety has been that common and greatest of all enemies—that invisible Devil, who has held you tightly in his clutches, and is sneering all the hope and energy out of your body. You can easily guess who that Merciless Devil is. His name is

DEBT!!!

You have cultivated his acquaintance and placed yourself in his power by accepting CREDIT. Therefore, if you would cut loose this gallstone of care and anxiety from your overburdened mind, and become a reality a free man, refuse going into DEBT, and avoid CREDIT as you would the deadliest enemy to your happiness and peace of mind.

You ask why we, as business men, devote our advertising columns to subjects that really belong to preachers and lecturers. We answer that it is because we recognize the fact that the welfare of the country is our welfare. We therefore find it to our interest to study for the people's well being and prosperity.

By showing up the evils of the Credit System boldly, fearlessly and in its true light, we have made thousands of Converts to the Cash System, who would otherwise, to-day, be suffering in the manner described above.

Remember that by trading in our house you Avoid Credit and Keep Out of Debt, as we sell for Cash, and cash only; and do not forget that we carry the

AN OBSERVANT TRAVELER.

Studying Human Nature at a Railway Station. Notes of the Mysterical Journey in the Case-The M. E. Conference and Bishop Haven.

[From our own correspondent.]

Humboldt Station is a good place to study human nature. There you find people fresh from the East expressing astonishment over the sight of a sewing machine, a picture of "the Father of his country," and "one even" held up her hands and exclaimed "a baby in this wild country!" As though the production of babies is bounded by isothermal lines. We stopped there thirty minutes the other day, and gave our closest attention to a few peculiar ones. First came along a young couple who had the newly-married air. Evidently the young lady was pointing. Her rather pretty face was all in a snarl, and she evidently felt injured. Very likely she "not only wanted her own way but her husband's also." The husband looked down at her with a sidelong glance that spoke volumes. "What in thunder is a fellow to do, I wonder, if women always do so?" That is what his face said. Further on we met

A FINE-LOOKING COUPLE.

Physically they looked comfortable, and in their faces they had that indefinable something that betokens culture. The lady made some remark, something comical I judge, and she was rewarded by a look of admiration. It cannot be pictured as it occurred, but their manner, the atmosphere about them, made us feel that we had had a glimpse of Paradise. As we gathered about the fish pond a woman said: "How often do they paint 'em?" "Paint what?" They red fishes." Here comes a portly man with a military air. He looks neither to the right nor the left. Evidently he hates to breathe the same kind of air that gives life to the vulgar herd. He transforms himself into a porcupine, and bristles with quills. You feel sure that if any one were audacious enough to speak to him he would be struck dumb or dead at a single glance. We went on to Winnemucca and devoted the remainder of the day to the Law and the Gospel. At the Court House we listened to Mr. McMillen in

THE HYMER CASE.

He was one of the attorneys for the prosecution. This was his first effort, and he was warmly congratulated by his friends. We also had the pleasure of hearing M. S. Beaufield for the defense. He certainly merits the reputation he enjoys, that of being a first-class criminal lawyer. Hymer sat behind him, nervously chewing tobacco. He has not a prepossessing face, in fact he looked almost as bad as some of the jury. With the exception of three or four they were a tough looking lot. I recognized one face among them, and he was not devoting his time to chewing tobacco and expectorating on the floor. From there we went to the M. E. Church, where the Conference was in session. Saturday evening we listened to an excellent sermon from the Rev. Mr. Hill of San Francisco. On Sunday morning Bishop Haven preached to a large congregation. He spoke for an hour and a half, and the universal sentiment was he didn't speak half long enough. It certainly was

A GRAND SERMON.

In the evening the two Sabbath Schools met and listened to short addresses by the different ministers. In the evening the Bishop and several others spoke on the educational interests of Nevada. Monday morning there was a business meeting, and at the close the appointments for the coming year were announced. It was a very pleasant and profitable conference. The ministers and the people of Winnemucca were mutually pleased. The people of Winnemucca District have reason to be pleased with their Presiding Elder. Elder Hammond is a man of culture and a pleasant speaker. He was chosen delegate to the General Conference. A. B. C. LOVELOCKS, Oct. 1st.

New Dams to be Built.

Some dams on Fall Creek were maliciously destroyed with powder not long ago. Several parties have been indicted for the offense and will be tried next month. The dams formed reservoirs for the water supply of the Blue Tent Gravel Mining company. Mr. Cortney of London, the President, and Prof. Thomas Price, the Secretary, came to Emigrant Gap on the train last night to make arrangements for rebuilding the dams destroyed. The Blue Tent company conducts operations on a grand scale, and their mine is among the most important in California.

Special Prizes for the Ladies.

A number of generous citizens have contributed a fund for the purchase of special prizes for the Ladies' Tournament of the Fair. The selections have not yet been made, but the articles will be well worth trying for. Great interest attaches to this feature of the races, and it is hoped that the fair contestants may be numerous.

A FALLING LADDER.

Several Things That Might Have Happened.

The painters employed on the Virginia street bridge went away at the close of their work Tuesday, leaving a long ladder standing against the iron frame-work near the middle of the bridge. About half past six o'clock a heavy team crossed the bridge and had nearly reached the solid ground when the vibration caused by its passage made the ladder topple over and fall. It came down with such force against the railing that one end of the ladder was broken off. A GAZETTE reporter was in the act of crossing when the ladder fell. Had he been struck on the head by the ladder the probability is that a valuable life would have been sacrificed. A few seconds after the fall a carriage containing two ladies and a child was driven on the bridge. Had the vehicle and the reporter been at the same time in the line of the falling ladder, an appalling loss of life might have ensued. The ladder fell in such a manner as to extend across the drive completely barring the passage. Had it not been promptly removed it might have frightened a number of horses and several runaways and smash-ups have resulted. If painters have occasion to again use long ladders on the bridge, it is to be hoped that they will not leave them standing and thus endanger the lives of passengers.

A LETTER FROM ALTURAS.

An Interesting Account of the Destruction of the Town by Fire.

The following graphic description of the Alturas fire is contained in a private letter, under date of September 27, from Judge Bowmer to his son in Reno:

The fire occurred on the morning of the 23d instant, commencing at 1 o'clock P. M., and in less than two hours our town was a smouldering heap. Every business place except the printing office and two livery stables was destroyed. Every residence, except a few on the outskirts, also went. Many women and children barely escaped from their burning homes with nothing save their night clothes worn at the time—some with not even a shoe or stocking left. It is estimated that at least one hundred thousand dollars' worth of property was destroyed. Although the citizens are engaged in clearing away the rubbish, preparatory to rebuilding the town and commencing business, I can assure you that times look gloomy enough. The destitute are already supplied with plenty of provisions and other necessities from Surprise, Cedarville and the surrounding communities, and will be amply cared for until they are in a condition to provide for themselves. The people of Modoc are more than generous, they are even lavish of their care and kindness toward the sufferers. I have several of the sufferers now in my house, although it is in an unfinished condition, but it affords a shelter until something better offers.

Bees in Brick Walls.

The absence of large trees in this valley induces swarms of bees to settle in the walls and frame work of buildings, under the eaves of houses, in gutter pipes, chimneys and other strange places. Bees have made their home for years under the roof of the Masonic building. There are no doubt hundreds of pounds of honey in the space over the Masonic Hall. In tearing down the brick wall in the rear of George Becker's saloon a few days since, the workmen uncovered the nest of a large swarm of honey bees. They were obliged to work with veils over their faces and gloves on their hands to avoid being stung by the angry insects. They took fully a bucket-full of honey from the place. Bees gather honey very fast in this country. The constant sunshine and dryness of the air enable them to work every day in the season.

A Small Fire Quickly Extinguished.

About half past three o'clock P. M., October 2d the small laundry building about fifty feet east of the Depot Hotel, and belonging to that establishment, was discovered to be on fire. An alarm was immediately sounded and old "48" was in a few minutes deluging the laundry with water. The hand engine was promptly on the ground and turned in a second stream. The fire was extinguished in a very short time with but little damage to the building, and that confined to the interior. Its origin is not known.

Sudden Changes of Sentiment.

In crossing the Virginia street bridge, people frequently stop to look at the river, and often lean upon the railing while they pause. The pleasing emotion which sentimental persons often experience when leaning over the rail and gazing into the running stream, gives place to a very different feeling, when the discovery is made that their clothing is in contact with fresh paint. This revulsion of feeling took place Wednesday in a number of instances.

GOOD HOPE.

A New Mining District in Elko County—A Singular Substratum Found in the Amazon Mine.

F. W. Wetherill, one of Reno's well known citizens, and who was one of the original owners of the Grand Prize mine, has returned from a six weeks' prospecting trip to the Good Hope district in Elko county. The district was located about three years ago, but has been neglected until recently. It lies about 70 miles north of Battle Mountain, and three miles west of the Owyhee river. The prospects for development are now pretty bright. Among the most prominent claims there are the Amazon, now bonded to Tuscarora parties for $20,000; the Page & Kelly, and the Golden Era, bonded for $10,000 each. The camp needs capital. There is no mill there, and wood is very scarce. Dr. Lamb, of Carson, recently went east to sell the U. & I. mine, which is situated in Good Hope. Mr. Wetherill made two locations, naming them respectively the Reno and the Strasburg. He proposes to wait until next spring before he attempts to open them up. There is a great variety of ore in the district, of which Mr. Wetherill has brought back numerous samples. There is a very singular formation in the Amazon mine. Against the foot-wall of porphyry a two foot vein of a soft talcose substance has been encountered. Before exposure to the air, it is soft, sticky and tenacious like adobe soil; but after drying in the air it solidifies and has the appearance of soap stone, feeling somewhat like talcose slate. Mr. Wetherill proposes to have a specimen of it analyzed.

THE ALTURAS FIRE.

The Loss Over $100,000—The People Hopeful and Rebuilding Commenced—Incidents of the Fire—Lake City's Help.

The Independent has come to hand with full particulars of the recent fire at Alturas. All the buildings in the place were of wood, and there was no fire engine in the place. The people could only look on and see their houses and stores devoured by the flames. The town had no fire organization whatever, not even a bucket brigade. All that could be done with wet blankets and buckets of water was attempted. Fortunately a breeze sprang up at a critical time and carried the flames away from the Independent office and a number of other buildings. Edwards has made a careful estimate and places the loss at over $100,000. There is no doubt that the fire was

THE WORK OF AN INCENDIARY.

The Independent thinks that should he be discovered "the coat of a trial to Modoc county would be very light indeed." Mart Edwards got one of his hands badly burned during the fire. The neighboring town of Lake City sent in a four-horse team, loaded down with provisions for the sufferers. The work of rebuilding has commenced already, and the business men of the place are hopeful and full of pluck. Alturas will soon be rebuilt, and the new buildings will be better than those which have been destroyed. Her citizens have learned a lesson that they will not soon forget. When a fire occurs there again it is probable that an efficient fire organization will be ready and have the means to keep it under control.

Real Estate Transfers.

The following real estate transfers have been recorded since our last report: J. C. Hagerman and wife to Sol. Simson—Lot 15, in block E. for $3,500. W. J. Marsh and wife to E. Rice—Lots 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, and 6, in block 9, and lots 7 and 8 in block 5 Marsh's Addition, 3 lots in block 18, Lakes Addition, $1,730. P. W. L. & F. Co. to F. Leyan—South 100 feet Lot 6 and 7, block 8, in Western Addition for $3,000. Alvaro Evans to C. W. Ward—Lot 14, block 8, Evans Addition, for $200. Alvaro Evans to Elizabeth Alt and conveyed to I. Ashcraft—Lot 11 in block 9, Evans Addition for $200. Chas. Gulling to W. Bradley—lot 18, 19 and 20, in block J. for $675. J. P. Grey and wife to W. H. Gould—40 acres near Reno, $7,000. Geo. Smith to L. D. Smith—Ranch in Pleasant Valley, $4,000.

Another School in Reno Certain.

The GAZETTE is informed on the best authority that the Board of Trustees of the projected State Methodist Academy, have positively fixed upon Reno as the place for their school. Negotiations will soon be in progress for the erection or purchase of a suitable building. Thus another institution of learning will soon be added to those already established in this town. The place has many advantages for such institutions, and Reno bids fair to be one of the principal college towns of the coast. The wandering newspaper correspondent at some future day may write of Reno as "the Athens of Nevada."

A GREAT FIRE.

The Mountain Above Donner Lake Wrapped in Flames—The Snow Sheds in Danger—An Army of Men Fighting the Fire.

The fire in Strong's Canyon, which delayed the trains last Wednesday night was caused by the ignition of an immense heap of sawdust near the snow sheds. Both fire trains were quickly on the spot and for hours poured water on the burning mass. The fire broke out afresh on Thursday and spread through the forest towards Tunnel 13. The engines were kept constantly at work to preserve the sheds. Friday the mountain above Donner Lake, covered with timber, was one great mass of flame. The high wind constantly fanned the fire into greater fury. The railroad company had hired all the men they could find in Truckee to help preserve the snow sheds. All the section men that could be spared from points along the road were sent to Strong's Canyon. The Republican of Saturday says that intense excitement prevails in Truckee as to the result. The fire at last accounts threatened the sheds near Camp 3.

Reno Strawberries.

Mr. Northrop laid a box of fine strawberries on the editorial table of the GAZETTE Saturday. The variety is known as the Jucunda and are a large and very sweet fruit. The second crop is on the vines now, and is much more plentiful than the first was. The frost of night before last nipped the blossoms and will shorten the crop very much, so that Mr. N. will have no berries to exhibit at the fair. He is doing good work in demonstrating the fitness of Nevada for small fruits.

Sacramento Notes.

Sacramento is visited this fall by fivers. A great many are sick. The houses are being renumbered for the new postal delivery system. Each block begins at the hundred and goes as high as the lots to the next street. For instance, from Front to Second would be No. 1, the next 2, etc. Crossing Second, the lots would be 101, 102, etc. The new depot will be finished in three weeks. A street-car track is being put down on Second street from K to accommodate passengers.

An Agricultural Advertisement.

Marcus C. Hawley & Co., have a fine ad. in the Weekly GAZETTE, which deserves the attention of the farmer. They sell all sorts of agricultural implements. Hardware, wagons, steam hay presses, etc. They also have a second hand steam press which will press hay so close that a car will hold twice as much as by the ordinary baling machines.

No Danger.

There is nothing in the report in the Journal last Friday that a peculiar disease was raging in Reno. The town never was in a more healthy state. People who contemplate visiting the fair next week need have no hesitation about bringing their children and ladies. There is no danger of fever or disease of any kind, except the ordinary ills that flesh is heir to.

An Unparalleled Offer.

The Sacramento Weekly Union, published in two parts, one on Wednesday and the other on Saturday, forming one of the finest papers in the world, and the Reno WEEKLY GAZETTE, an 8-page paper containing 48 columns of reading matter, will be sent to any address for one year for three dollars. This is the best chance ever given to the public to secure first-class reading at such a price.

Views of Reno to be Taken.

Murry Dunham, the well-known photographer, proposes to act upon the GAZETTE's suggestion and take a series of views of the town and surroundings of Reno. For this purpose he will send to his Oakland establishment for the necessary apparatus. It is a good thing that such a thorough artist as Mr. Dunham has undertaken the work.

Browning Escapes From the Hospital.

J. W. Browning, the night operator at the railroad station, was taken down to Sacramento a few nights since, prostrated with pneumonia. Thursday night he was delirious, and succeeded in escaping from the building. He had not been found up to 9 o'clock this morning.

A Fireman's Race at the Fair.

Another attraction at the State Fair at Reno will be a Firemen's Tournament, for prizes of plate valued at $70 and $30 respectively. Twelve men will constitute a team and will run against time; carriage to weigh 1000 pounds, and distance 400 yards.

Shot Dead.

Mr. Berkely, D. W. Earle's agent at Carlin, was shot dead at noon Friday. Family difficulty was the cause.

LAYING THE CORNER STONE.

Interesting Ceremonies by the Grand Lodge F. & A. M. of Nevada.

The aid of the Grand Lodge of Masons was called to lay the corner stone of the new school house Saturday day. The beautiful and impressive ceremonies were conducted by Most Worshipful Past Grand Master H. L. Fish, aided by Deputy Grand Master Jo DeBell, Right Worshipful Grand Senior Warden Chas. Knust, Right Worshipful Grand Junior Warden J. C. Hagerman, Very Worshipful Grand Treasurer T. H. Hymer, Very Worshipful Grand Secretary Mark Parish, Worshipful Grand Chaplain C. McKelvey, W. G. Orator C. S. Varian, W. G. Marshal W. A. Walker, W. G. Sword Bearer W. R. Chamberlain, W. G. Bible Bearer A. Kinney, Grand Senior Deacon G. H. Fogg, Grand Junior Deacon B. Jones, Grand Tyler A. H. Manning, Grand Stewards M. Sanders and B. H. Kinney, and Grand Pursuivant B. E. Hunter, who were appointed by the Grand Lodge of the State for the occasion.

THE EXERCISES.

were very successfully carried out. Captain Bragg in the name of the Trustees of Reno School District No. 10, requested Grand Master Fish to lay the corner stone. After the proclamation of order by the Grand Marshal and prayer by the Grand Chaplain, came the oration. When Grand Orator Varian had finished, the box was deposited and the corner stone was laid. The Grand Public Honors, and proclamation that the corner stone was laid in due form by the Grand Marshal, closed the Masonic ceremonies. Rev. Mr. Jenvey made an address, and the children sang, and the work was finished. A long procession of children, numbering 263, headed by the band, led the march to the school ground through the principal streets.

The Entertainment Given by the Amateurs Friday Evening.

The applause which greeted the performers in the amateur dramatic entertainment Friday is the best evidence of their success. There was decided dramatic talent shown by several members of the company, and every character was well sustained throughout. The cast of the drama "Down by the Sea" was admirably well chosen, and the play well adapted for an amateur performance. The audience frequently manifested approval of the excellence of the acting by hearty rounds of applause. The musical portion of the entertainment was pleasing. The vocal and piano solos were good, and the vocal duets well received. The comic duet, in character costume, brought out roars of laughter. Only one reading was given, and that was rendered with much elocutionary taste and power. The Reno Brass Band furnished excellent music. Should they play with a trifle less force on such occasions the effect would be much better. The whole entertainment was highly creditable to all who took part in it. There was nothing poor in the performance. The audience was agreeably surprised to find so much ability manifested.

The general wish is that another such entertainment may be given by our home talent before very long. The house was well filled last evening, and the concert was no doubt a financial success.

Laid Up in the Archives.

The contents of the box which was sealed and placed in the corner stone of the new school house Saturday are as follows: From Jno. F. Myers, a 50-cent piece of 1811 and one florin of 1859; G. W. Budden, photographs; Dr. Dawson, school laws of Nevada; Chas. Knust, copy proceedings Grand Lodge, F. & A. M., 1879, copy Nevada State Journal, San Francisco Chronicle, Virginia Chronicle and Reno Evening GAZETTE; Knust & Bragg, dollar of our dads; Lisle Jamison, one 25-cent currency scrip; O. Ring, list of pupils attending the public schools of Reno, list of teachers and school officers, and Reno's collection small coins, U. S. A.; C. Knust, photograph of Walter Wilcox, the "Masonic Orphan," and photograph of grand stair way, Woodward's garden; R. L. Fulton, copy of San Francisco Bulletin, Territorial Enterprise, Daily and Weekly Reno GAZETTE, Record-Union and Bee; J. M. Flanagan, constitution and by-laws of Amity Lodge, K. of P., No. 8; Wm. Goegle, melted jewelry, relics of fire.

Fire in Sierra Valley.

The house and barn of Miss Callahan, in Sierra Valley, with all their contents, were destroyed by fire last Thursday. There was no insurance. Miss Callahan lives about five miles from Loyalton, and her premises were burned once before, only about a year ago.

Shaving Their Salaries.

The salaries of all the teachers in the public schools have been reduced. Mr. Ring's has been cut down by $20. Others who have been paid $35 per month are now paid $75.

JOTTINGS.

The road to the fair grounds is being wet down.

An assessment of fifty cents has been levied on Bechtel.

Dan Deamon says he has a horse this time that beats from the bottom.

Coleman & Pechner have dissolved partnership. Coleman is going East.

The iron work of the Virginia street bridge is receiving a new coat of paint.

H. Michael will resume business about Nov. 1st on Virginia street, in liquor tobacco, etc.

The Depot Hotel has used nearly 20,000 cucumbers this year from Conner's garden. No wonder times are gripping.

Crowce Jones is putting up a fine new house on the South side of the river, near Mark Parish's.

Mayberry has located a very fine ledge of gold quartz in Butte county, California. The rock assays well.

S. N. Davidson has a fine lot of gold pens on a revolving case in his window. He makes a brilliant display of his goods, especially in the evening by gas light.

There are three potatoes in Charlie Becker's saloon, each weighing about two and a half pounds. They were raised on the ranch of John Klippe, about a mile below Glendale.

D. W. Bryant, whose ranch is about five miles east of town, back of the English Mill, reports wild ducks quite plentiful about his place. Rabbits are also thick in the neighborhood.

LASSEN COUNTY NOTES.

The Susanville Band—A Gambling Row Dew's "tranger" to Run in Reno—Susanville Fair—Items of Interest.

From our own Correspondent.

Susanville can boast of having one of the finest band wagons in the Northern country. It has just been painted over by Mr. A. B. Cummins, who handles the brush with the ease and grace that are equaled by few and surpassed by none. The Brass Band boys are improving fast, and ere long would be a credit to any town in the State.

This town can boast of as many lodges, also a chapter and commandary, of secret societies as many of the larger towns. Seven are in full working order, three of them are Masonic. A lodge of the A. U. O. W., has just been started by Mr. Oliver.

Our merchants are preparing to go to the Bay city for new supplies. They have had a large trade this season. Partridge & Hyer take the lead in general merchandising.

The gamblers have reaped a good harvest here this season. Two of them got into a dispute over a game of cards. Joe Dyson of Sierra valley, to convince his opponent of the legality of his taking down the coin, hit him over the head with a pistol. Their trial comes off to-day before Judge Beake.

Wm. Dow has started to your city to attend the races during the Fair. He took with him his half-mile horse, Stranger, to compete with your flyers, for the half-mile purses.

The officers of our Fair are making every preparation to have a grand time and to give Nevada's visitors a warm reception. The Race track is in fine condition and fast time is anticipated.

B. W. Barner, Internal Revenue Collector, is here, hunting up uncanceled stamps on barrels and boxes. A good barber would do well here, if he would come to stay and not expect to make his fortune in a few days.

The catfish for Sanders & Dow will be in Reno on the 11th. Mr. Dow will be there to receive them.

Sheep shearing is in full blast. The clip will be heavy. Yours, etc., JULIAN.

Susanville, Oct. 2, 1879.

Browning Turns Up in San Francisco.

Mr. Browning's friends in Reno were very anxious on his account Friday. He had been sent down to the Railroad Hospital sorely ill with pneumonia. Thursday night in his delirium, he made his way out of the hospital in some unknown manner, and although a careful search was made in the vicinity, no traces of him could be found. Word was received Saturday that he had turned up at the house of a relative in San Francisco. He must have boarded a train after leaving the hospital. But it is most astonishing that a man in his condition could have the strength to go through such an experience. He will of course, be tenderly cared for where he is, and his constitution having carried him through so much already, will, it is hoped, finally bring him out all right.

A Card.

To all who are suffering from the errors and indiscretions of youth, nervous weakness, early decay, loss of manhood, etc., I will send a recipe that will cure you, FREE OF CHARGE. This great remedy was discovered by a missionary in South America. Send a self-addressed envelope to the Rev. Josiah T. Shaw, Station D, New York City, 100-11, decl-ly

Distressing Accident at Cisco.
George Daley had a railroad torpedo in the watch pocket of his vest. He was foreman of the carpenters engaged in rebuilding snow sheds near Cisco. Last Thursday he was passing back against a timber, when the torpedo exploded, tearing a hole through his ribs. Dr. Curless of Truckee, who was called to attend him, says that he never witnessed such agony in his life as that which Daley suffered from the accident. The wounded man is now in the hospital at Sacramento. There is little hope of his recovery. All must feel sorry for the poor fellow. But every man who has a caution to handle explosives and giant powder caps should learn from Daley's fate to keep such explosives out of his pockets.

Fine Furniture Store.
W. D. Comstock, of Sacramento, has a first-class furniture store. He keeps a large stock of both fine and cheap goods, which will stand any climate. People who are in need of anything in his line will do well to read his advertisement and call and see him.

A distinguished scientist once said: "No man with a strong and healthy stomach ever committed suicide; and yet many are suffering from the effects of the disease of dyspepsia, when a single bottle of Dr. Mitchell's English Dyspepsia Remedy will give relief, and if persisted in, will cure the worst case of this distressing trouble. This will cure Torpid Liver and Bile, regulate the bowels, remove pimples from the face, cure croup, colds, coughs, asthma, headache, heartburn, pain in the sides and back; is sugar-coated, and guaranteed to be purely vegetable. It acts directly upon the coating of the stomach and on the liver; can be taken in any climate—hot or dry weather. Beware of imitations. The genuine has an engraving of a lion on the outside wrapper. Price 25 cents. For sale by all druggists."

Physicians and Invalids are with confidence

The Kaiser Celebrated German Elixir for Consumption and Lung Diseases. It is rich in the medicinal qualities of tar, wild cherry, etc. It is rendered perfectly harmless to the youngest child. This would have proved an angel of mercy in the household of those unhappy parents of Vallejo, Dixon, Beaver, Utah, and numerous other places, whose children were slaughtered by a quick medicine recommended by its owner to cure croup, pneumonia, whooping cough, etc. but instead a deadly drug which has slain its thousands. We give you only German Elixir. The genuine bears the Prussian coat of arms and the signature of Dr. Kasper. Beware of all cheap stores. Large size 25 cents. Small size 15 cents. Wholesale Druggists, etc.

How to Save Money.

Instead of going to a doctor for a prescription, if you have Bright's disease, Diabetes, Pain in the back and loins, Smarting, Inflammation, Catarrh, Bricksfoot, or any trouble of the Kidneys or Bladder, buy a bottle of Dr. Mitchell's Nephritic Remedy, the great Nephritic Compound. It is the most wonderful prescription ever compounded for these troubles. Moore, Abrams & Carroll, wholesale druggists, say: "We regard Nephritic Remedy as the best Kidney and Bladder Remedy in the market." Woodward, druggist, Portland, Oregon, says: "Sold lots of it; it always does the work." Many have been cured of obstinate kidney complaints after the doctors have given them up. For sale by all druggists. Price $1.25. oct 5

Sir Astley Cooper's Vital Restorative.

MISCELLANEOUS ITEMS.

Not a single passenger lost his life by railway accident in Great Britain for the six months ending June 1.

The family brandy bottle was left within reach of a little girl in Albany, and she very nearly died from the effects of the drink she took.

A packet containing $27,500, was stolen from the French Ministry of Finance by a stranger who entered the inner office of the chief cashier in his absence and asked to see him.

One hundred acres of wheat cut with a reaper, keeping six "blows" going, was the work of a Scotch lassie of Lexington, Ind. She used three pairs of horses in relays, but did them all out.

The youth who killed the girl he loved because she would not love and marry him, found by this time that he was wrong. He went to a neighbor's to hide him, but he followed her, and being refused for the third or fourth time, he shot her dead. Then he went and shot himself.

An egg has been hatched in a man's pocket on the North Carolina coast. He found a terrapin's egg beneath a fragment of rock. He put it into his pocket in order to show it to a friend, and forgot to take it out. He was startled a few days later to find a young terrapin alive and kicking.

An adventurer, who professed to represent a New York trust company and to have millions under his control, purchased with his own notes mining property in Leadville exceeding $2,000,000 in value. In his bargain he stipulated that payments should not be made before September. He bought five mines, some large reduction works, and real estate without end. Before his notes fell due he disappeared.

It is related by the True Times that a clergyman approached "Paddy" Ryan, the prize fighter, near the City Hall a few days since, and placing one hand on the athlete's shoulder, said: "My dear sir, any one blessed with such a splendid physique and such shapely proportions ought to be a good man." The clergyman was startled by Paddy's reply: "A good man! Well you can bet your life I'm a better man than Dwyer."

When the Emperors met this month at Alexandrow, not only were the railroad buildings and approaches guarded by gendarmes, Cossacks and police, but express trains were not permitted to pass through the stations, and the passenger had to remain all day in the village. Along the line from Ottoltschin, the frontier place, to Alexandrow and on to Warsaw, mounted Cossacks were stationed at every few steps.

What puzzles folks in Janesville, Wis., is why George Harrington should have murdered the 6-year old son of his employer. The boy was left with the hired man on the farm while the parents went to town. On their return both were missing, and eventually the little fellow's body was discovered concealed in the sheep barn. His throat was cut, his arms were tied behind him, his feet were bound, and his body was slashed with the knife. The man had stolen a horse and fled. Many disasters have traced on the once frank, youthful face of the Austrian Emperor lines of bitterness, and a mature air of decision; but when on one of his chamois hunting parties he loses much of his turgid severity of manner, and gets back some of his old gayety. His laughter, hearty and genial, is as frequent as that of the most light-spirited of his guests. He likes to hear a good story, and for that matter, to tell one.

THE SMALLEST OF BABIES.

Weighing Only Eleven Ounces and Three-Quarters at Birth.

From the New York Sun.
Mrs. George Fromm of 438 West Fifty-fourth street, the happy mother of a fully developed boy baby born on Sunday, and weighing eleven ounces and three quarters. The head of the child, although smaller than a small apple, is covered with an extraordinary growth of light brown hair. The features are regular, the eyes bright and clear, and the skin is fine and delicate. The arms are the thickness of an ordinary little finger, and the fingers are the size of extra large pencil leads. The nails, although not much bigger than a good-sized pinhead are perfectly formed. An ordinary luncheon basket is an ample cradle for the babe. His

HEIGHT AT BIRTH WAS FIVE INCHES, and breadth across the shoulders, two and a half inches. Mrs. Fromm is a pleasant-looking German woman, five feet seven inches in height, weighing 135 pounds. George Fromm, the father, weighs 175 pounds. He is an ex-car driver on the Third Avenue road and out of work. They have been married eleven years and have had five other children, all of the ordinary height and weight. Pity and others who have examined the tiny babe, already named Georgie, say that he is considerably smaller than the other of the midwinters at the time of birth, and that if he lives he will take the palm as the smallest man in the world. The child is to be baptized two weeks from next Sunday in the German Protestant Episcopal Church, at Forty-third street, and Ninth Avenue, of which Mrs. Fromm is a member. The father said: "I hope the minister won't let him fall in the font. He'd drown in a beer mug, you know."

SLEEP ENDING IN DEATH.

The Remarkable Case of Robert Musterman, who Slept for a Week and Died.

From the New York Sun.
Robert Musterman of Flatlands, L. I., who went to sleep on Wednesday a week ago and could not be awakened, died yesterday morning at 2 o'clock. Musterman, who was a native of Germany, and about 29 years of age, was employed by Tax Collector Bailey, of Flatlands, to work about the farm. Being extraordinarily strong, he was able to do the work of two ordinary men. Musterman was in the habit of drinking a great deal of strong liquor after his day's work. On Wednesday night of last week Musterman retired to bed at 10 o'clock. On Thursday morning, as he did not arise as usual, Mr. Bailey went to his room to awake him. Musterman had the appearance of a man in sound sleep, and Mr. Bailey shook him roughly, but

COULD NOT WAKE HIM.
Dr. Bromley of East New York applied restoratives without effect. On Friday Dr. Ingraham, of Flatbush, was called, and he, too, was unable to awake Musterman from his Rip Van Winkle-like sleep. Dr. Ingraham thought it was a case of apoplexy, the result of drinking so much strong liquor. He ordered beef tea and nourishing diets to be forced down the sleeping man's throat. No change was noticed in Musterman's condition until Monday. Then his eyes opened for a few minutes and closed again. Much interest was taken in this sleeping phenomenon, and Mr. Bailey was bothered with many visitors who came from miles around. Musterman lay in the garret of Mr. Bailey's story-and-a-half house on the Canarsie road. He seemed to sleep calmly, snored loudly, and perspired freely. Before his death he gasped convulsively a few times, but did not awake. He had been sleeping six days and four hours.

One County Where All Can Read.

There is only one country in the world in which there are no illiterate people; it is the Sandwich Islands. The population of the islands is 58,000. They have 11 high educational institutions, 169 middle public schools, and 43 private schools. The public instruction is under the supervision of a committee appointed by the King, and composed of five members, who serve without remuneration; the committee appoint a general inspector and a number of sub-inspectors. The Government takes care that every person shall be able at least to read and write, and pursues energetically all parents who neglect to send their children to school.

Fires Around a Powder Mill.

SANTA CRUZ, Oct. 2d.—Early yesterday afternoon a large and dense smoke was seen just north of town, a little beyond the powder works. Reports came that a fire was in the brush on the old Graham Hill. Early last evening the fire had spread so that the powder mill folks sent in town for men to fight the fire, offering to pay well for their services. Fifty men went out together with three hundred under contract to Mr. Muir on the Felton railroad, and by hard work the flames were got under control by midnight. To-day the fire and smoke is denser than ever and fears are entertained that great damage will be done.

At a funeral at Delhi, N. Y., all the mourners were dressed in white, in obedience to the request of the dead man. He had abhorred black, as being expensive and significant of anything but a happy ending of this life, as well as lost hopes for the future.

HONEY LAKE AND INDIAN VALLEY

Secret Societies—Bright Prospects for Susanville—Sales of Land—Mining Matters—A Terrible Accident and a Mother's Grief

The Ladies of A. O. U. W. organized and instituted by H. G. Oliver in Susanville, started with 16 charter members, and by the way the members talk it will in the near future have as many or more than the other lodges. The organization is only of two years standing in the State, and at present stands third among the various other societies.

J. C. Patridge, of Patridge & Hyer, has gone to the Bay City to replenish their stock. He will buy a heavier stock than was ever brought to Susanville since it became a town.

The case between Dixon and another man I mentioned in my last letter was decided in Dixon's favor.

Prof. Buck, of Chico, is here giving lessons in penmanship and fancy drawing. He is what some call an expert with the pen. His drawings of birds and animals are life-like and almost as neatly executed as a steel engraving.

Col. L. N. Breed, of Janesville, will winter in the lower country. A. G. Bechtel will run his store during his absence.

J. N. Barry bought of Mr. Breed one of his farms near Janesville; price paid, $4000. J. Hardgrave, of Taylorville, bought of Mrs. J. T. Taylor, of the same place, 320 acres of land at $25 per acre. J. Ulrich bought of the same lady 160 acres at $26 per acre. J. Hunsinger 160 acres at $28 per acre of the same lady. Mr. Brooks of the same place and lady, 100 acres at $37 per acre. L. W. Hough sold to J. Basher 200 acres at $36 per acre. Compton & McBeth, of Greenville, are putting a new 20-stamp quartz mill on Soda Creek on a newly discovered ledge of universal richness. Pearce and McDow, of this place, have a fine lode on Diamond Mountain. Others have good ground, and all seem sanguine of success. A gentleman representing English companies is here negotiating for ground. Most of the owners seem to want to hold on to their claims.

Geo. Goman was instantly killed near Greenville on the 2d inst., while unloading logs at the saw mill. In unloading them, by some mistake he removed the blocks holding the lower tier of logs, when suddenly they rolled over him, mashing him almost into a jelly. His mother came from the east the evening of his death, only to find her son a shapeless mass. Words cannot describe the anguish of the mother when she saw the mangled remains of her idol.

SUSANVILLE, Oct. 5, 1879.

The Norman Horses.

Mr. Perry's Norman horses are among the most attractive animals at the Fair grounds. Their size, color and handsome carriage make them conspicuous among the fine horses there displayed. They are so well proportioned that their weight is always underrated by visitors. Besides the immense strength of the Norman horse, his endurance is remarkable. The Norman is fast becoming the favorite breed for heavy draft and farm work. It ought to be a good investment for some one to purchase one of these magnificent animals and keep him for service in Washoe and adjoining counties next year.

Buggies and Carriages.

Pike & Young, of Sacramento, exhibit a lot of their work which is very creditable. They have several very handsome carriages, a farmers wagon and a passenger wagon covered with canvas, such as are used all over Nevada. Mr. Pike is here himself and will receive orders for work or sell anything he has at the pavilion.

A Cabin Robbed.

Force Gregory's cabin, near Bragg's lumber yard, was broken into Monday night during the absence of the owner. The domicile was stripped of everything worth taking that could be carried away, even to blankets and bedding. No clue to the thief has been discovered.

Two Robbers Arrested.

Patrick Conley and John Roach were yesterday morning arrested on a charge of breaking into and attempting to rob a railway car at the station. They were committed for trial.

Tobacco and Cigars.

Lachman & Myers are first class dealers and keep first class goods. They can fill any order large or small, and are always prompt and obliging.

DIED.

FERST. In Reno, Oct. 6th, 1879, Nathan Ferst, a native of Ohio, aged 36 years. The funeral will take place to-morrow morning at 10 o'clock, from the undertaking establishment of Sanders & Neale. Friends and acquaintances are invited to attend.

HEPPERLY. In Reno, October 7th, 1879, G. W. Hepperly, a native of Pennsylvania, aged 36 years.

[Funeral from the M. E. Church to-morrow (Tuesday) at 10 o'clock A. M.]

THIRD DAYS RACING.

A Very Fast Race, With A Good Result.

The three mile and repeat race attracted a great deal of attention and drew out a great deal of money. The pools sold lively, starting with Red Cross $20, Stanford $10, Gates $10 and the field $7. Afterwards Stanford and Gates had a very close second choice, bringing $16 and $17. The horses got away after a few false starts with Frank away behind on a gallop. On the first mile Gates was in the lead, Dirigo second, Red Cross third, Gold Note fourth, Stanford fifth, with poor old Jack Stewart and Frank far in the rear and breaking badly. On the second mile Gates was still ahead, Red Cross second, Stanford third, Gold Note fourth, Dirigo fifth, Stewart and Frank distanced. The pools now sold, Stanford $20, Red Cross $11, Gates $8, field $2. Gates was put in the field and Red Cross crawled up about even with the favorite and the field $10 and $12 in $90.

Only four horses started in the second heat. The start was even, but Dirigo gradually took the lead, followed by Gold Note, Stanford and Red Cross. At the end of the first mile Dirigo was the first under the wire, Red Cross second, Stanford third, and Gold Note fourth. On the second mile Gold Note dropped away behind, while the others kept well together. At the close of the second mile Gold Note led, with Stanford second, Dirigo third, and Red Cross last. Gold Note led on the third mile, closely pushed by Stanford. Red Cross won the heat, with Stanford a close second, Gold Note third, and Dirigo fourth. Time—7:57 1/2.

At the close of the second heat Gold Note sold in the pools at $30, Stanford $11, and $2 for the field. Another start on the third and last heat, the horses got away well together. Stanford led from the start, and the first mile was made with Red Cross second, Gold Note third and Dirigo fourth. On the second round Red Cross took the lead at the half mile, closely followed by Gold Note. On the home stretch Stanford took the second place, and the horses came under the wire with Red Cross first, Stanford second, Gold Note third, Red Cross retained his lead throughout the third mile, but was hard pressed by Stanford, and the finish was spirited, Red Cross winning the heat and race with Stanford second, Gold Note third and Dirigo fourth. Time, 8:00.

In the dash of one and one eighth mile, pools sold 40 to 7 on Glenita, who was nicely beaten by Madge Duke in 2:10.

In the two and a quarter race, Illusion and Madge Duke started, Madge winning easily in 4:16. Pools were 20 on her to 4 on Illusion.

Theodore Winters' Connor and Baldwin's Tillie O started in the three-quarter mile dash. Connor won; time 1:19.

High Priced Butter.

Mr. A. W. Cheever, Editor N. E. Farmer, owns a fine dairy and gets a high price for fancy prints. In an editorial Nov. 2d, he said, "The Perfect Butter Color made by Wells, Richardson & Co., we have used for several years, and we have found nothing equalling it, although we have tested about everything of the kind made in this or the Old Country. It is the strongest, cleanest, purest and cheapest butter color we have ever found, and for all we can see, it is absolutely perfect. It should entirely supersede carrots for coloring butter, and also all the preparations of Annatto." Farmers if your butter is white do not fail to try this splendid preparation. For full particulars inquire of Osburn & Shoemaker, druggists, Reno, Nevada, who have it for sale, as well as all druggists and merchants generally.

Particulars of the Carlin Homicide.

From the Winnemucca Silver State.

Simon Barclay, who has been in the forwarding and fast freight business in the eastern part of the State since the completion of the railroad, was shot and killed at Carlin last Friday, by William Garrard, a son of William Garrard, who was Governor Bradley's Private Secretary for several years, and formerly a resident of Galena near Battle Mountain. The particulars of the homicide, as near as we can learn, are as follows: Garrard met Barclay in front of Jones' store in Carlin, and making some remark, which our informant did not hear, drew a pistol and fired at him. The ball entered his breast just below the ribs, and passing through him lodged in the spine. Barclay lived about three-quarters of an hour after being shot. Garrard delivered himself up to the authorities and telegraphed to Elko for a lawyer. It is said to be another Sprague-Conkling affair, with this difference, that Garrard fired and Sprague only threatened to do so. It is said that Garrard claims that he was justified in shooting Barclay, and alleges that he had been criminally intimate with his (Garrard's) wife.

PACIFIC COAST ITEMS.

A Man Shot in Suro.

Last Friday night in Suro William Walker was shot by Louis Vincent. The men have been on bad terms for some time. Vincent was drinking at the bar of the Suro saloon, when Walker went behind him and struck him on the head with a rock. Vincent wheeled and drew his six-shooter, but was prevented from shooting by parties in the room. Walker then left, saying he was going to arm himself. In about half an hour Walker, with a pistol in his hand, advanced up on Vincent, who was standing in the rear of the saloon. Vincent then drew his revolver and fired upon Walker. The bullet entered Walker's lower lip, struck the jaw and entered the muscles of the neck, where it lodged. Walker was alive at last accounts. Vincent was discharged from custody. The shooting was shown to have been done in self defense.

THE NORMAN HORSES.

A Fine Addition to the Live Stock Exhibition at the Fair Grounds.

James A. Perry, inspector and breeder of Norman stallions, and owner of the Riverview stock farm at Wilmington, Illinois, arrived in Reno Saturday with six fine stallions. He was on his way to San Francisco, where he intended to sell the animals. The Trustees of the Fair induced him to stop over in Reno this week and to exhibit his horses. They are on the grounds to-day and are a leading feature in the live stock department. The Norman or Pecheron horses are remarkable for their great size, strength and weight. They are bred for heavy draft purposes. Fully 90 per cent. of the horses of this breed are of a gray color. They are fast walkers and will cover at that pace a good four miles in an hour. They make fair roadsters also. Mr. Perry states that he has driven a horse of this breed in France twenty miles in two hours and four minutes, which is certainly a satisfactory rate of speed on the road. Of the horses exhibited by Mr. Perry the most prominent is Royalty, an imported Norman, a dappled gray, whose weight is 1970 pounds.

Pathfinder, another imported animal, four years old, is also a dappled gray; weight 1760 pounds. He is valued at $3000. Scotch Tom is a Clydesdale stallion, imported from Aberdeen last fall. He is a coal black horse, five years old, and weighs 1750. Valued at about $1800. There are three grade horses which are very handsome animals. Their legs are free from the long shaggy hair that is a characteristic of the full blooded Normans. Monarch 2d, of five-eighths Norman blood, sired by imported Monarch, is a four-year-old dappled gray, weight 1450, and worth about $1000. Denmark 2d, sired by imported Denmark, weighs 1770, is six years old and a handsome gray stallion, valued at $1200. Duke 2d is a five-year-old, sired by the celebrated Duke du Chateau that won the first prize at the Centennial exhibition. This is a three-quarter Norman and weighs 1770 pounds, valued at $1500. Mr. Perry makes an annual trip to California, where he has already sold about forty Norman horses.

THE EXHIBIT INCREASING.

Fine Articles of Every Kind Crowding to the Fair.

The pavilion is being righted as rapidly as men and tools can fix platforms and unload goods. In such a scene of chaos it is impossible to write anything about the display which would be worth reading. R. P. Chapin's flower stand is the first thing that meets the eye, and it is being filled with choice plants and flowers, which will be mentioned later at more length. C. C. Stevenson's patent ore feeder stands near the door. J. M. Huyck is on the same floor with an astonishing display of vegetables and fruit raised in his own garden. His peaches are from a tree three years old, raised from the seed. Mrs. Gault has some delicious looking melons near by. Geo. Alt shows some "surprise" wheat. The seed came from New York, and three pounds of it produced six bushels. It is heavily bearded and a very large grain. He also has some "superior" potatoes, two dozen of which filled a half bushel. Mr. Brown has a branch loaded with apples from the Auburn mill. Harry Bernard and Pike & Young have a lot of buggies and wagons of high style and finish. Strassburger & Co. fill up a large space with carpets and blankets which serve as drapery for the walls. Their show cases contain fancy articles, fans, spool silk, etc. Ross & Baur are unpacking some elegant furniture. The 4th department is filling up rapidly. The pictures are coming in fast and the entry clerks are pressed with fancy work. By this evening there will be much to be seen that will interest every one.

Lovelocks Notes.

We are sorry to write of the departure of two of our good citizens, to-day, for Oregon. John Body, our Deputy Sheriff, and Charles Blackfan have fitted up covered wagons and with families and household goods taken a new departure. They expect to be five or six weeks on the way. They have the best wishes of their numerous friends here for prosperity in their new homes. Mr. Body's mantle of authority has fallen on Capt. E. E. Asher, who will henceforth be a terror to evil doers. Mr. H. Marker who has been very sick for the past three weeks, is now able to be about. A small boy in a very destitute condition came to the home of John Harrison last week. After mature deliberation they have concluded to keep him.

Bids are being taken for building a smelting mill for the Numa Mining Co. It is undecided yet whether it will be built at Orona, or at the mine. Farmers are almost through with harvesting. In view of the scarcity of water the amount harvested is very satisfactory. A. B. C.

Lovelocks, Oct. 6th, 1879.

Monday's Races.

Notwithstanding a very heavy wind the races came off a little after the appointed time. The pools sold for the first race as follows: Minnie Brighton, 25; Illusion, 30; Red Oak, 17; McGuire, 10. The judges were C. C. Stevenson, C. C. Powning and J. C. Corey. Timers, W. R. Chamberlain, J. R. Stuart, Starters, A. L. Longley and Theodore Winters. The race was run in 1:38 1/4, Betsy winner, Minnie second, Illusion third, Red Oak left at the starting pole. He made a good run but came in behind the flag.

Lillie R galloped over the track for the Ballnetto stake. For the mile and repeat Twilight sold for $20; Warwick started at 20 and run down to 8. Twilight won in two straight heats.

Tuesday's Races.

In the 2:30 race Lillie B. started favorite at the pool box, selling at $30 to $20 on Surprise, $9 on Belle Spencer and $7 on Quincy Chief. Belle Spencer won the first heat in 1:40 1/4, Surprise second, Chief third, and the favorite distanced. The pools were now $20 on Belle, $15 on Surprise and $3 on Chief. The mare won the second heat in 2:46, Surprise again second. Surprise took the third heat in 2:44 1/4 and Belle the fourth and race in 2:45.

The three mile and repeat race was postponed until noon Wednesday. In the pools that were sold Red Cross brought $20, Tommy Gates $5, Stanford $12, Dirigo, Gold Note, Jack Stewart and Frank in the field, $7.

Holting Works Bought for the Jones & Kinkead Mine.

The machinery and buildings of the East Brooklyn mine have been bought by the Jones & Kinkead. Two engines, four boilers, holting machinery, cars, trucks, etc., are comprised in the purchase. The holting works and one boiler will be removed to the Jones & Kinkead mine and put in operation within thirty days. The East Brooklyn mine is full of water in which two pumps are submerged. In addition to the holting works, buildings, etc., of the East Brooklyn, the mine itself was thrown in.

Miraculous Escape.

Joseph Anglum, a tramping boot-black from Virginia city, fell off No. 3 Sunday morning at Martin Creek. The train was late and was running very fast at the time. Instead of being killed as any one would suppose he would be, there was not a bone in his body broken though his arms, legs, head and shoulders were badly bruised. He is 13 years old and is one of the gang that foned the money buried near the North Con. shaft some time ago.

Progress in the Crown Prince Mine. W. D. Aplin is in from Pyramid Lake where he has been for some weeks directing operations on the Crown Prince mine. An air shaft is now being raised from the head of the tunnel. It will reach the surface about Christmas. The upraise is about fifty feet from the tunnel and is making about a foot a day. It is rising through good ore all the way. When the shaft reaches the surface, machinery will at once be put on the mine, and probably a mill erected.

A Sierra Valley Man's Joke. The Lassen Advocate relates that some one in Sierra valley recently sent to Ward, of the Plumas National, a box of "choice garden seeds" with instructions to plant them at once. In a carefully prepared hot-bed. After the seeds had been sown, that Plumas "quill driver" watched with impatience for the appearance of those "rare and beautiful flowers," which soon wiggled into view, in the shape of some very fine specimens of the Sierra valley grasshoppers.

George Hepperley Dead.

"Uncle" George Hepperley died in the hospital Tuesday morning. He was born in Pennsylvania in 1823, and was a young man when he crossed the plains in '49 and began mining on the Yuba. In November of 1857 he settled down for good on the Truckee meadows. He has long been well-known to the people of this section, and was universally esteemed as an honest and good hearted man. Two of his brothers are living, one now resides at Peoria, Ill.

Bogus Certificates.

It is no vile drugged stuff, pretending to be made of wonderful foreign roots, barks, &c., and puffed up by long bogus certificates of pretended miraculous cures, but a simple, pure, effective medicine, made of well-known valuable remedies, that furnishes its own certificates by its cures. We refer to Hop Bitters, the purest and best of medicines. See another column.—Republican.

U. S. Court Proceedings.

In the U. S. Court indictments have been found against Scarista, for having counterfeited coins in his possession; John Bradley, for selling whisky to Indians; and two or three for violations of the revenue law. Deacon Parkinson's case is set for the 27th.

Reno Man in an Ugly Affair At Suto.

The Enterprise Tuesday gave the following particulars of a serious affray which occurred in Suto at 1 o'clock yesterday morning between W. H. Meserve of Gold Hill and Thomas Wheeler, a resident of Reno:

It appears that the two men were good friends, and Wheeler was at Meserve's saloon talking and drinking until the hour named. Wheeler being about to leave for home, the two men went to the livery stable where Wheeler had left his horse, Meserve lighting the way with a lantern. Both men were interested in a horse race which is to take place in Suto to-day, and in talking the matter over got so hot that Meserve struck Wheeler over the head with his lantern, extinguishing the light. Wheeler immediately drew a knife and went for Meserve lively, knocking him down and slashing and stabbing him, until probably thinking he had killed him, he sprang upon his horse, without either saddle or bridle, and left in a hurry. He was pursued by some of the citizens, but not overtaken. The left side of Meserve's face and neck is horribly gashed from forehead to chin, and one slash of the knife barely missed the jugular vein. He has also a stab or two about the chest, but although he bled profusely, none of his wounds are thought to be fatal, and unless erysipelas or some other adverse condition should supervene, he will probably recover.

Obituary.

Nathan Furst, who died so suddenly at the Fair grounds Monday, was a pioneer on this coast. He came to Nevada in the early days of mining, and was one of the first men in White Pine, Eureka and other noted camps. Of a roving disposition, he was constantly moving from place to place, and wherever he went he made many friends. He took a keen interest in sporting matters and became widely known in sporting circles. He was always true to his obligations and his word was as good as his bond among those who knew him well. He had of late been living in Leadville and came from that place to Reno. His father is a well-to-do resident of Cincinnati, where a brother of his is county clerk. The coroner's jury Monday night rendered a verdict that the deceased died from natural causes. Heart disease is believed to have occasioned his death.

The Draught Horses.

James A. Perry wants to have every one see his fine Norman stallions at the Fair grounds. They are of the purest blood and are for sale. This is his fourth trip to Petaluma, and makes 40 head of horses that he has taken there. The breed of horses which he cultivates is unsurpassed for work animals and their introduction into Washoe county would be a great benefit to the country and would doubtless be very profitable to any one who went into it. The business of hauling freight will always be very large in Nevada, and the best stock is the cheapest in the end.

Good Buggies.

Harry Bernard is here with a better display than ever. First is a beautiful two-seat rockaway, the very latest pattern. A nice two-seat phaeton, very light. A pony phaeton. A coal box buggy. A piano box buggy. A two-seat farmer's family carriage, shifting top, and an open four-wheel wagon, all steel tire. A lot of white hickory wheels to show the kind of material he uses in his manufacture. The buggies are all for sale at any time before the fair closes.

M. E. Sunday School Election.

The M. E. Sunday school last Sunday elected the following officers for the ensuing year: Superintendent, C. McKelvey; Assistant Superintendent, J. M. Fleming; Secretary and Treasurer, F. McRae; Chorister, W. H. Treadway; Assistant Chorister, Mrs. Plummer; Organist, Miss Flora Loomis; Assistant Organist, Miss Mary Marsh; Librarian, Miss Ada Tilton.

Death at the Pool Box.

While the pools were selling the liveliest on the first race of Monday, Nat. Furst fell down dead. He had just bought a pool on Betsy McGuire, the winning horse, and saying "I owe you two dollars," when he fell. Dr. Hogan was called and pronounced death almost instantaneous. He was 38 or 39 years of age and a native of Cincinnati, Ohio. He was a sporting man of Jewish extraction, and a brother of Abe. Furst, wholesale liquor dealer in St. Joe, Missouri.

Excursion Rates on the Railroad.

The Central Pacific railroad is selling round trip excursion tickets to Reno during the Fair week at greatly reduced rates. The average reduction is about one-third off regular rates. Thus the usual fare from Winnemucca to Reno is $12.85 and the round trip between the two places can now be made for $17.

Alturas Recovering.

Edwards, of the Independent, writes that Alturas is beginning to loom and all feel encouraged.
